

SOUTHERN PACIFIC REPORT.

The annual report of the Southern Pacific Company, just published, shows the gross earnings for the year 1894 to have been $44,772,013, as against $48,849,548 in 1893. The decrease is $3,277,545 which is attributed to the general depression which prevailed last year. The greater part of the decrease is reported as having occurred in the Pacific branch of the system, the transportation earnings on that part of the system having been $3,477,775 less than in 1893. On the Atlantic portion of the system there was a slight increase which is attributed to the operation of steamship lines in connection with the road.

The Central Pacific Railroad proper, earned $13,118,244 in 1894, as against $14,319,967 in 1893. This decrease was probably caused by the strike, which suspended operations for about four weeks right in the fruit season. The decrease from this cause alone is doubtless sufficient to account for the falling off in receipts of the Central Pacific in 1894.

The report would indicate that the business depression was more generally felt on the Pacific Coast in 1894, than in the East, but facts do not support that view of the case, as it is well known that the Pacific Coast did not suffer proportionately with the East in the great panic of 1893-94.

The report of the Southern Pacific Company shows that there is a revival of business on its various lines and a much better showing is expected for 1895, than for the last year.

IN THE REGULAR WAY.

The State Silver League of California has seceded from A. J. Warner's American Bimetallic party. The trouble was caused by Warner's alleged determination to force Congressman Joseph C. Sibley of Pennsylvania as the Silver candidate for the Presidency. The California League appeals to other States to protest against these caucus methods and to call a National Convention of State Leagues at St. Louis on March 16, 1896, to nominate Presidential candidates and prepare a platform.

There is considerable sound sense in the above. Sibley is an ideal candidate, but he should be nominated by the party in the regular way. It would make his followers all the stronger and increase his chances of election. Any attempt to force a man on his party, is generally resented by the voters and wrecks the campaign.

Let Sibley come before the Convention, and take his chances with the rest. Nevada would give him a solid vote.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Governor McConnell of Idaho is in attendance at the Salt Lake Silver Conference. When asked if he would make a square fight for silver at 16 to 1, he gave an evasive answer. There are too many Silver men like Governor McConnell, this State having 2,700 of them. They are 16 to 1 free coinage men if the Republican party would happen to take such a stand, which is so remote a possibility that no sensible person considers it for a moment. But in case their party comes out on a square goldbug platform, they will be found supporting the candidate, whoever he may be. Silver (?) men of this stripe retard the cause of free coinage more than do the avowed goldbug.

The Independent says Elko is considering the proposition of organizing a Board of Trade for the purpose of calling the attention of the East to its resources. A few years ago the State tried a Board of Trade but only the Manager and Secretary were benefitted by it.—Journal.

The President and Secretary were, if we are not mistaken, Bob Fulton and Allen Bragg. Yes they did fairly well by it.

The Grand Jury is after certain members of the Board of Supervisors, and is awaiting the return of Barclay Henley to the city before indicting them on charges of boodling. Henley represents the Civic Federation, which has collected the evidence against the Supervisors of San Francisco.

Sound money advocates begin by calling the author of "Coin's Financial School" a fool. It is now declared that he is both a fool and knave. But the cause of epithets does not seem to be convincing. "Coin's Financial School" is doing its work fairly well.
